Reasons Why It Is Better To Work On Yourself.

Many people after the termination of educational institutions and achievement of certain age are confident that it is time to them to get a job. However, it is far not the best idea. "Why?" - You are surprised. Everything is very simple. There is an alternative - to work on yourself, and at least few reasons why it is necessary to do it.

1. You earn money round the clock.

Certainly, to be arranged for well paid work and to exchange the time and work for money is the remarkable idea. However, it is not reasonable. Why, you ask? Because on work to you pay only when you work and you never thought that it would be better and easier to receive money even then when you do not work. Imagine, your life if you received the income round the clock how much would change.

On work you spend more than 40 hours per week. This fact of very few people excites. Each of us is excited with value and importance of that we receive. We are ready to pay for it. Therefore agree what to exchange the time for money – not the best way to earn. There is a way much better in which value made by you is separated from expenses of your time.

It, for example, opening of the business, investment in something, the income of introduction of your inventions, site creation, reception of the fee for creative work etc. In this case the system created by you constantly delivers value to people, makes the income and works continuously irrespective of, you find for it time or not. Thus, it is required to spend in the beginning some time and efforts to develop and introduce your own system of manufacture of the income. Having started system, you should not exchange the time for money any more. From this point on the basic part of your time will be directed on increase in your income by improvement and development of your system or start of new systems.

2. Income is all yours

At work on hiring you should make so many values that to you has sufficed to cover not only expenses on your salary (bonuses, etc.) and taxes but also to make sufficient incomes to owners or investors.

Thus, on work to you pay only a part of value really made by you. Your present salary can be several times above, but you never receive the most part of this money. When you work on yourselves income is all yours.

3. Regulate the income.

When you wish to increase your income, working on hiring, you constantly should prove justice of your requirements. Thus you not always receive the answer satisfying you. In the system of reception of incomes you solve and regulate, when and how many you should receive.
