The Reasons Of Failures Of Internet Businesses?

The reasons of failures of Internet businesses?

Often enough I should observe, how my partners in business and many participants of our partner program lower hands and leave Internet business. The reasons of such phenomenon can be much. It and not ability to follow the purposes and an accurate plan of action, absence of patience, desire of fast benefit and some more reasons which in this article I will not consider.

I wish to show one of the cores, in my opinion, the reasons on which the majorities do not achieve those results on which they count. I, by the way, could change the life even earlier and achieve more considerable results, than now still 2 years ago.

So, to understand this reason, let's consider some examples, and already on the basis of these examples we will draw a conclusion.

Example:

The participant of our program "One million" at the very beginning of its development writes to me and asks, when in the program there will be all training which has been planned, differently he cannot offer such business to anybody as it for himself has not found anything useful in the program.

On the one hand it is clear - not all was at that point in time accessible training, and much still needed to study. But base knowledge from these courses could be put into practice. As even in a free course the basic directions of activity are specified, in paid courses these questions are considered in more details.

But he for some reason anything from this that has read, in practice has not made. He waited, when one more course will be added, and can, it would find in it for him something useful... Or saving. And, can, he in general search simply for an occasion of nothing to do?

Similar examples it is possible to result not one. The reason of such behavior consists in ourselves - we search for something saving, unusual. And when it appears that no secrets are present, and it is necessary to lay down only the aim, to plan sequence of actions and to work in this direction, in general, as well as in any business, we start to search for an occasion it not to do, hoping that next time to us will necessarily carry, and we will find that saving formula which searched.

But while you do not decide to change yourselves and do not learn to take responsibility on yourself, you can and not achieve results in Internet business.

It is assured that almost all people are identical and capable to do a lot. It is necessary to put only a few efforts, to have patience and operate, and results will be just great.
