What You Should Know About Internet Business

The Internet as the mirror reflects society model. And the same as and in a real life, in the Internet there is a large quantity of projects which or promise to earn in a short space of time a heap of money, or simply to earn, thus doing nothing.

Thank God that fans of a freebie and fast earnings in a network becomes ever less (in percentage terms). But, if in a real life always there are people who become victims at stations and the markets and on the Internet always were, is and there will be the people greedy to "easy money". And, hence, swindlers and any organizers of financial pyramids will always prosper. And fault to all to it simple human avidity ...

My problems now do not include criticism of similar programs. I consider as the debt to state the point of view on this question to answer a question "that I do not consider as business in the Internet" and also frankly enough to let know some of readers of the dispatch that they will not find in my person of the adherent on questions "a freebie and easy money", and also will not meet materials on this theme in the subsequent releases of dispatch "Secrets of Success in the Internet".

So.

I do not consider as business on any Internet sponsor's programs

I carry various ways of reception of money to this type of programs from "sponsors" for the account clicking on banners and (or) advertising viewing. As far as I know, similar programs are most extended in the internet.

Question: is it possible from participation in these programs to earn money?

The answer: it is possible!

But let's soberly look at this market. At the expense of what money here is paid? Very short, the essence of similar programs can be described as follows: "sponsor" has contracts with several advertisers or advertising agencies that are ready to pay to "sponsor", we will tell 50 cents (figure conditional) for one click of the mouse on an advertising banner. The sponsor can "fairly advertise the given sites, for example, creating sites with high attendance.

But it can arrive in some other way. Namely, to start to "employ" a cheap labor, as a rule, from Third World countries. The program which allows earning not only for the account "clicking" and advertising viewing, but also certain percent from the earned money involved referrals is created so-called referral. All is simple enough and logical. "Sponsor" even agrees to share with the profit, for example, giving on payment to referllas 10 % of the incomes ... So you should think twice before you would like to start earning money with this way.
